
5 and still waking

My 5 year old still wakes every night nomatter what and comes into our room, he doesn't cry he just comes in and makes himself comfortable - even if we carry him back to bed he returns within the hour. From about 2 am on he will not stay in his bed - we have tried everything we can think of - anyone else in this same boat or been there and conquered the problem?

My 6 yr old recently stopped oming in our roon - we tried everything with no luck and then all of a sudden, it stopped. I guess she was just ready to sleep alone - she even wakes sometimes to go to the bathroom and then goes right back into her room to sleep! Sometimes it's just a matter of time!!
