I just wanted to share with you my experience, I work part time at a fitness club and enjoy the time out of the house however it doesnt exactly pay the bills lam looking to hear from parents how you work at home and if its worth it to you. I know a lot of moms and dads look for other jobs to do from home but cannot always find a legit company to work for or would like to try direct sales but not sure if its worth the money. lam curious to hear your experiences. I work for a direct sales company selling jewelry and dont get me wrong the money is GREAT!!! Ive made more than $300.00 in less than four hours but I cannot seem to get people to have these partys mainly because lam not pushy enough I am guessing or people are just partied out so please share your experiences and opinions lam eager to hear from you.
